

Now is the time to fight cancer and make time for all those battling this disease.

Fund what we know works, fund research for new treatment options, create a pathway for access to innovative early detection tests. To end cancer as we know it, for everyone, we need Congress to take swift action to pass a bill that includes three items:

- Fund prevention that works and research for the cancers where we don't have answers by passing a final FY25 bill that includes the highest possible funding increases for cancer research & prevention programs.
- Support increased access to innovative cancer early detection in Medicare by passing the Medicare Multi Cancer Early Detection (MCED) Screening Coverage Act.
- Support access to critical cancer prevention services by passage of the SCREENS for Cancer Act.

Now is the time for Congress to save lives from cancer by prioritizing prevention, detection and treatment in the FY 25 budget.

Take one minute to call your three lawmakers to ask them to include the highest possible funding increase for cancer research & prevention programs, passage of the Medicare Multi-Cancer Early Detection Screening Coverage Act and passage of the SCREENS for Cancer Act in the final year end spending bill.
